

JA Inspire™ Workbook

Prep for the Greenville County School District
7th Grade Career Fair

Welcome!

Welcome to the JA Inspire Workbook! You're about to explore options for your future. You will learn more about yourself and what you might want to choose for a career. Then you'll attend a Career Fair to explore companies in your community. One of them might have a job that's just right for you in the future! After the Career Fair, you'll think about what you've learned and your next steps for high school and beyond.

You are here to learn:

- why career planning is important, even for middle school students.
- why it's important for you to understand your own values, skills, and interests when you explore career choices.
- about the 16 career clusters that organize careers and jobs.
- which career clusters might be the best fit for you at this point in your life.
- how to make a personal plan for the Career Fair.

Session One: Career Interests and Your Path

You are a unique blend of values, skills, and interests.

Developing a Career Plan

To plan your best career, it's important to understand yourself. Your personal values, skills, and interests should guide your career planning.

The first step is to consider what is important to you. Then think about what you're good at and what you enjoy doing.

What's important to you? What makes you proud and happy? Who inspires you and why? These personal values guide your actions and help define you.

Values can include honesty, kindness, courage, and loyalty, as well as social connection, artistic expression, and personal achievement. Maybe you see injustice and want to work to change it. Maybe you value independence and want to run your own business. Or, you value contributing to a group's success and want to be part of a work team. Values are the starting point in defining yourself.

What are you good at? What do you enjoy doing? Everyone has unique abilities as well as weaknesses. No one is great at everything. Knowing your unique combination of strengths and interests can help guide your choices in education, training, extracurricular activities, and employment.

Watch the video Developing a Career Plan to learn more.

Developing a Career Plan

Why is it important to know what you enjoy doing?

Name an interest you have that you would like to learn more about to use in your career.

Name a school subject you like, and explain how doing well in it might help you in a career.

Think about what's important to you, what you're good at, and what you enjoy doing. They can be personal qualities, volunteer activities, school subjects, athletic or artistic abilities, or whatever you like. Do you like working alone or with others? Do you want to work in an office, outside, or both? What are your interests? List a few ideas.

- Open your Career Interests and Your Path worksheet and answer the questions for this section.
- Answer the questions for the Developing a Career Plan section.
- Return to this worksheet after completing the Career Interest Inventory to record your results.

Take the Career Interest Inventory to explore your career interests.
Just select Take the Inventory.

Remember: Record your scores on page 2 of the worksheet before closing the results page.

Career Clusters

A career cluster is a group of careers that share common features. If you like one job or career in a cluster, you might find others in that cluster that interest you.

Career cluster icons are used throughout JA Inspire Virtual. Refer to the following chart as necessary.

 Agriculture, Food, & Natural Resources	 Hospitality & Tourism
 Architecture & Construction	 Human Services
 Arts, A/V Technology, & Communications	 Information Technology
 Business, Management, & Administration	 Law, Public Safety, & Security
 Education & Training	 Manufacturing
 Finance	 Marketing, Sales, & Service
 Government & Public Administration	 Science, Technology, Engineering, & Mathematics
 Health Science	 Transportation, Distribution, & Logistics

Explore Career Clusters

Explore the career clusters using Career Explorer on JA Here to Career™.

- Navigate to Career Explorer in JA Here to Career™.
- On the Career Explorer page, select a cluster's icon to see careers that fall into it.
- This page also shows you the jobs' income range and the general level of education and experience needed. Select specific jobs to learn more about them.

Discover Jobs

1. Select a career to learn more information.
2. The box shows the outlook for that job, education needed, and related careers. The tabs (Video, Skills, Knowledge, Ability, Personality, Technology) provide more detail. Look at different jobs to learn about the skills and training needed. Explore as many jobs and career clusters as you want!

Note: In the Quick Info section, be sure you are clicked on National

The screenshot shows the JA HERE to CAREER website interface. The main content area is titled "Brickmasons and Blockmasons" and includes sections for "What they do", "Work Expectations", and "On the job, you would". Below these sections are tabs for "Video", "Skills", "Knowledge", "Ability", "Personality", and "Technology". A video player is visible under the "Video" tab. On the right side, there is a "Quick Info" section with a "Salary" subsection. The "Salary" subsection has two tabs: "Local" and "National". The "National" tab is selected, showing a salary of $59,340. Below this, a bar chart shows the salary range from $37,100 to $96,750. The "Education or Training Needed" section indicates that a high school diploma/GED or no high school diploma/GED is usually needed. The "Related careers" section lists: Carpenters, Floor Layers, Helpers—Brickmasons, Blockmasons, Stonemasons, & Tile & Marble Setters, and Refractory Materials Repairers.

TAKE NOTE!

Companies have jobs in multiple clusters. For example, banks are in the Finance career cluster but may also have jobs in Communications, Marketing, Information Technology, and others. Don't disqualify a company because you don't think it falls within your preferred cluster. Keep your eyes open for ways to combine your multiple interests and skills into a single job!

Open your Career Planning and Your Path worksheet.

1. Answer the questions about the Why Is Career Planning Important? video.
2. Explore Career Clusters and complete that section of the worksheet.

Use the JA Career Explorer to identify jobs in these clusters that look interesting to you.

Session Three: Preparing for the Career Fair

It's time to get ready for the Career Fair Event where you'll find careers in action. Preparation is key to a productive event.

At the event, you'll have a chance to:

- Learn about a variety of local career opportunities.
- Interact with business representatives.
- Participate in hands-on activities from companies in our region
- See work equipment.

In this session, you'll prepare to make a good impression on volunteers from local companies. You may one day be hired at one of these companies! After attending the event, you'll have a chance to reflect on the experience and identify next steps in your career-planning journey.

Prepare to be inspired!

Elevator Pitch Guide

It's important to think about what you want to say before delivering your elevator pitch. Answer the following questions to help prepare some ideas for your pitch. Then, using your responses, craft an elevator pitch that you can use at the Career Fair.

Prepare ideas for your elevator pitch.

What matters to you?

What are you good at?

What do you have to offer a potential employer?

What interests you?

What do you want to be remembered for doing?

If you asked a friend, how would that friend describe you?

What is one thing people should know about you?

Compile the basic information for your pitch.

- Your Name
- The dream job you would like to have:
- Skills or interests that you have that could contribute to that job:
- Something about yourself that would make a positive and memorable impression:

Write your pitch.

Remember to include your name, your dream job, why it's your dream job, and what skills and interests you have that will contribute to your success.

JA INSPIRE QUESTION GUIDE

You need to be prepared to ask the exhibitors good questions and have meaningful conversations at the Career Fair. Think about what you would like to know, and then try to write questions that aren't what everyone else might ask. People in business appreciate questions that are unique and thoughtful.

About the Company

Example: What type of person is successful in your company?

Example: How many hours do you work each week?

Example: What types of opportunities for raises and promotions are at your company?

Example: How do most people work, alone or in teams?

Example: What type of on-the-job training does your company offer?

About the Job

Example: What types of education or skills are required for your job?

Example: What can I do today to begin preparing for a job like yours?

Example: How do you use time-management skills in your job?

About the Business Representative

Example: Why did you choose this career? How did you get started?

Example: What is the coolest thing you have ever done at work?

Example: What do you like most about your job?

Example: What daily tasks do you perform at your job?

Example: Where do you generally do your work, in an office, remotely, or somewhere else?

Example: How much travel does your job require, if at all?

What Career Clusters Interest You?

At the Career Fair you will visit company booths to explore and ask questions. Create questions below to help guide your time while exploring. You will visit company booths to explore and ask questions. Check out the list of participating Companies on the next page! (will be provided in the fall of '23)

Example: What are some entry-level jobs in this career cluster?

Example: What are typical starting salaries for entry-level positions in this career cluster?

Example: What type of on-the-job training do most companies offer?

Example: What opportunities are there for self-employment in your career or industry?

List three other questions you would like to ask.

3.

List any questions you have for specific companies. (Company: Question)

Session Four: Career Fair

Personal Reflection

It takes time to process new information and reassess plans.

The Career Fair helped you begin a thoughtful process to assist in planning your education and future career. Now it's time to think about everything you learned and how you can use that knowledge in the future.

Play the video Reflection and Next Steps.

Session Seven: JA Inspire Personal Reflection

Save this document as a PDF to your device. Your teacher will provide instructions for turning in the assignment, if needed.

JA Inspire Virtual was just the beginning of a thoughtful process that will help you plan your education and career path. Now it's time to think about everything you learned and how you can use that knowledge in the future.

Complete all three parts of this worksheet. In Part 1: Event Summary, you will note what you learned about career clusters that are of interest to you. In Part 2: My Plan, you will identify next steps in your career planning journey before reflecting on what you've learned in JA Inspire Virtual in Part 3: What I Learned.

PART 1: Event Summary

1. In the Career Cluster column, list the top three career clusters that you explored.
2. For each career cluster, complete the next three columns.

Career Cluster	Career	Three Things I Learned About This Cluster	Why This is a Good Match for My Skills and Interests

- Open your JA Inspire Personal Reflection worksheet.
- Complete the charts and write a paragraph about your next steps.

We hope you've learned about career opportunities that might be right for you and enjoyed exploring companies in your local community. The goal was to inspire you to focus on your future career as you head towards high school and beyond.
